GOVIND BALLABH PANT UNIVERSITY OF
AGRICULTURE & TECHNOLOGY
PANTNAGAR-263 145, (U. S. NAGAR)
UTTARAKHAND

Govind Ballabh Pant University of Agriculture & Technology, Pantnagar popularly known as 'Harbinger of Green Revolution' in India was dedicated to the Nation in 1960 by Late Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru, the first Prime Minister of independent India to promote agricultural education in the country. Since then, the University is catering the needs of the society by imparting quality education, need based research and disseminating farmer friendly innovations through extension education. The University has grown many folds since its inception and presently houses eight constituent colleges with Agriculture, Home Science, Fisheries, CABM, Veterinary Science and Technology as main streams. The University has credit of receiving prestigious Sardar Ballabh Bhai Patel Best Institution Award (for year 1997, 2005 & 2019). The University has QS World Rankings 2025 #201-250 (QS WUR Ranking by Subject).

The University has made significant achievements in producing high yielding disease resistant crop varieties, techniques of crop production and technological tools to enable farmers in increasing their crop production. With a view to display its innovations, the Directorate of Extension Education organizes All India Farmers' Fair and Agro-Industrial Exhibition twice a year mainly to benefit the farming community. This year the forthcoming Rabi Kisan Mela is being organized from October 10-13, 2025. In this endeavor, we appeal to all to participate in the "Krishi Kumbh" and join hands with the University in its noble cause of uplifting rural mass as by displaying valuable products and innovative ideas/techniques/product.
